

The knacks for ladies, chespe choise braue and new, Good penniworts but

Musicke in a Manor

mony can-not more, I keepe a faier but for the faier to view, a begger may bee liberrall of

Works for Lute and Voice
by John Dowland

Ilkley Manor House
14th September 7pm

Tristram Cooke Counter -Tenor
Peter Martin Lute

Admission by ticket £10.00

01943 602521 or from Grove Music

Great gifts are guiles and looke for gifts againe,
My trifles come, as treasures from my minde,
It is a precious Jewell to bee plaine,
Sometimes in shell th'orient pearles we finde,
Of others take a sheafe, of mee a graine,
Of mee a graine,
Of mee a graine.

Within this packe pinnes points laces & gloves,
And diuers toies fitting a country faier,
But my hart where duty serues and loues,
Tuncels & twins, courts brood, a heauenly paiet,
Happy the hart that thinks of no-remoues,
Of no remoues,
Of no remoues.